

California Writers Club – NorCal Presents:

“Writing in the Redwoods”

Imagine yourself writing in the beauty and serenity of a redwood forest. Don't just dream it, do it! The Northern California branches of California Writers Club are sponsoring a three day retreat in the Santa Cruz Mountains. This is the perfect opportunity to polish your novel . . . or get started on your memoir . . . finish that poetry chapbook . . . far from the distractions of everyday life, and with the companionship of fellow creative souls.

When: April 5-6-7 (with option to stay at the retreat center through April 9)

Where: Pema Osel Ling Retreat Center, near Corralitos in the Santa Cruz Mountains <http://www.polmountainretreat.com>

Cost: $206 for two nights, three days, including all meals

Facilitators: Volunteers from CWC will act as facilitators; however, the emphasis is on quiet, independent time for writing. In addition to writing, there are walking paths and an outdoor pool, as well as a meditation shrine and amphitheater available for your use.

For More Information: Contact Dale King, (650) 726-1272, deking8@msn.com